STORY OF STORIES

Have you been spending precious moments of your college career trying to find out where administrative offices are? Have no fear, at last you shall be given people and offices on the Concordia campus - those particular areas you REALLY need to get to.

Centennial Hall was renovated this past spring and summer to accommodate new office space. The offices located in Centennial are - Director of Community Services, Coordinator of Research Projects for Concordia School of Adult Learning, Campus Pastor (Rich Claybaker), College Relations, Development Office, Student Services (Dean Tesch and Eileen Imsdahl) and Director of Residential Life (Sharon Krueger). As you walk into the foyer of Centennial you are confronted with the office lay-out, so there should be no problem in finding exactly whom you need to see.

In the Administration Building the offices of Registrar, Student Accounts, Financial Management, Concordia School of Adult Learning and Student Academic Activities are located. Once again, all are marked with signs and relatively easy to find.

Within the classroom building, the Office of Financial Aid is housed, one of the most important offices on the campus. After all, we are always looking for money. It is located on the first floor of the Classroom Building.

No problems, right? From now on you should be able to scout around campus with ease and efficiency and spend those precious moments on important things - like sleeping.

THE YOUNG AND THE RESTLESS

Coach Hendrickson stated in his chapel message earlier this year that this was CSP, Concordia Soccer Power. It seems as though this may be the case with this year's team.

In a letter to the incoming soccer players this summer, Captain Chris Hahn said, "I hate to use the term rebuilding year, so instead I will say that we are going to be a young team." Young team indeed. This year's team has three first year seniors, Kris Steinhelm, Ue Vang, Dan Wolff. The team also includes juniors: Dan Berteau, Kris Bjornstead, team captain Chris Hahn, Peter Klemp, Thai Vang A Vue, and Paul Wentzel. Sophomores are: Mic Bauer, Matt Dettmer, Dean Frick, Lisa Fritz, Debbie Herman, Bob Inwards, Mark Johnson, Patrick Pooch, Larry Sipe, Chia Vang, Bill Zuelsdorf. Freshman include: Tony Duong, Stacey Hadley, and Chuck Harris.

Once again this year, Comet wins will be dependant on whether or not they can put the ball in the net. Last year the offense produced the opportunities, but they just could not seem to finish the play with a score. Hopefully that problem will be solved with a couple of new additions. Specifically, freshman Chuck Harris and sophomore Bob Inwards. These two dynamic scorers, combined with the rocketfooted Paul Wentzel, should boost the Comets to a successful season.

Making up the backbone of a solid defensive unit are returnees Dean Frick, Bill Zuelsdorf, and Mark Johnson, and with the addition of Dan Wolff it can only get better. With last years goalie J.P. Wenger not returning it seemed as though the Comets might be left high and dry with no one in the net. However, last spring two eager men, namely Mic Bauer and Larry Sipe volunteered to work with J.P. and learn the tools of the trade. Both of them worked hard all summer and are ready to sacrifice their bodies for the team.

Reading the list of names, you may have done a double take as you read few of the names. Yes, this year's soccer team is coed. Deb, Lisa, and Stacey are suiting up and ready to take on all comers. They prefer to be treated as teammates rather than anything special.
