“I loved this internship mainly because it was so self-paced. As a collegiate soccer player, I don’t have a lot of time in my day. This internship allowed me enough time to fully learn anything I wanted about my topic, do my own research, and turn it into a paper. Not only did I get enough time to learn about my topic, but I also had enough time to make sense of what I learned and apply it to my future career as a Physical Therapist while earning 12 credits through my school.”

- Emma, ACR Homes PC & Intern, current University of Concordia student
