

March Horoscopes

BY ANNA FRITZE

ARIES
(MAR. 21–APR. 20)

From what I've heard, you really were the gossip queen (or king) last month. I'm glad you had your fun, but it's time to end the rumors. Even though you feel like it's not hurting anyone, keeping it up for a while ends up hurting you; those toxins seep right into your own skin. Reduce your unhealthy behaviors and focus on what makes you feel loved to avoid a downward spiral.

TAURUS
(APR. 21–MAY 21)

Have you been busy lately? I think you have. While you might feel the need to be constantly working, if you keep it up, you'll crack. No need for a crisis inside of the Covid crisis that already exists. Watch a movie, read a book, FaceTime a friend or two, and sleep in this weekend! You deserve it.

GEMINI
(MAY 22–JUN. 21)

Now you, Gemini, have something special coming your way. Whatever project you've been working on or whatever goal you've been working toward, keep it up. Feeling a little bit rusty? There's plenty of white vinegar for you to soak in out there (I had to Google how to get rid of rust; you're welcome). Even if you don't see it now, your hard work is paying off already. If there's been something you've wanted to do for a while but have been too afraid, remember this is your life; live it on your own terms.

CANCER
(JUN. 22–JUL. 22)

Like Gemini, you have some big plans, but are too afraid to carry them out. It's time to really believe in yourself and the abilities you know you have. Putting yourself out there might be scary, but no one wants to live their lives not doing what they want. Yes, not only you can rock blue hair, but you can also go on that crazy trip (if it's Covid-friendly); you can apply for that amazing job; you can talk to that slightly odd-looking person with the cool personality. With spring on its way, it really is now or never.

LEO
(JUL. 23–AUG. 21)

Are you toxic? Stop it. Do you have some toxic people in your life? Say goodbye. Whether these toxins come from you or someone else (it's probably both; we're only human), just know that they're really enjoying themselves right now as they eat away at your insides. Seriously, do you feel okay? Now is the time to identify specifically what toxins you have and cut them out of your life, whether it be behaviors, negative vices, or "friends." All that will be left is your healthy self and your loyal friends; congrats in advance!

VIRGO
(AUG. 22–SEP. 23)

Your friends are important, but so are your resources. Knowing the right people will really get you places. Don't be afraid to reach out to people in order to better your professional future. Spring is about to "has sprung," and that's got your creative juices flowing. Keep that up and advance it with the help of others.

LIBRA
(SEP. 24–OCT. 23)

How are your self-care routines going? Not great? I would love to say, "Well, do I have a solution for you!" However, in this instance I cannot bring myself to lie and say yes; I would be proven wrong already. In fact, the Libra section would have been over like two and a half sentences ago. Anyway, while I have no direct solution, I would recommend you assess your daily routine and figure out where you think it went wrong. Even if you're not entirely off-balance, are there things you could be doing better? Are you overworking yourself without knowing it? Take a sec to do a reality check on yourself so that the next time someone asks, "You good?" you can respond positively without lying.

SCORPIO
(OCT. 24–NOV. 22)

You might already be a brave specimen, but you're about to be even braver! Congrats. This month, take time to really understand those close to you on a deeper level. Make sure they feel heard and cared for. Experiences like these that help you feel closer to those around you will give you the confidence to do even more of that slightly awkward stuff. It only gets better!

SAGITTARIUS
(NOV. 23–DEC. 22)

Your feelings seem to have been all over the place lately, and not even you can figure out what's going on. Are those butterflies in your stomach or is it that McChicken you ate from the McDonald's on University Ave earlier today? Are you actually sad, or are you just tired (it's probably both, sorry)? It's fine if you need to take a hot sec to step back and sort yourself out. During confusing times like these, remember to reach out to those friends who give oddly good advice to help.

CAPRICORN
(DEC. 23–JAN. 20)

Careful with your words; remember they can heal, but they can also harm. Communication isn't always your strong suite, and people might take your words in a way you didn't intend. Don't blame them; it's not their fault you don't make sense. Actually think before you talk to avoid some of these awkward encounters and hurt feelings. If you do mess up (you will), don't wait to make amends. Explain where things went wrong, and use those mess-ups as learning experiences.

AQUARIUS
(JAN. 21–FEB. 19)

Your head's about to hurt! How's that whole "I'm going to start saving my money" thing going? If you answered not well, I'm not surprised. While you definitely deserve a treat once in a while, once in a while does not refer to every day, or even every other day for that matter. While budgeting sounds rough, you'll thank yourself later. If you answered "super well; I haven't spent a penny on anything I didn't need in months," then dang, go buy yourself some fast food or some new sandals or something.

PISCES
(FEB. 20–MAR. 20)

Happy you season! The time has finally come. Even though it's Pisces season, the end of winter is gonna hit ya right in the feels, so get ready for it. Instead of fighting it, let it flow. Watch a rom-com that you know is stupid that you love anyway. Listen to sad music under a pile of blankets. It's time to let everything you've been holding inside go; you'll be glad you did.
