

Craving a Life in the Spotlight

Rachel Lindemann

By Hayley Bahnemann

Many sophomores are still trying to decide what they want to do with their lives, but, for some, it has been a no-brainer since they were young. This is the case with sophomore Rachel Lindemann, who is double-majoring in both Vocal Performance and Theatre. When asked how she came up with her decision Lindemann said that "I always wanted to do vocal performance, but I added theatre later." She has been involved with theatre since high school and she really loves doing it. "It will help with my vocal performance major because it helps to know how to act and it will help with opera especially. I really want to do opera."

Lindemann was not joking when she said that she has always known she would end up in vocal performance, she has been singing in front of people since she was seven years old. As a young girl she started singing in church, but she had actually taken lessons and was learning how to read music already. She has been playing the trombone since the 5th grade, approximately nine years, and she has taught herself how to play the piano, guitar, and ukulele. In high school she was a member of the National Honor Choir, the Regional Honor Choir, and the All-State Choir for two years.

Since coming to college, Lindemann has been involved with quite a few activities. Besides acting in the student directed show Ah! Eurydice last winter, Pippin last spring, The Robber Bridegroom in the fall, Anne Frank in March, and Spring into Dance Lindemann has also been in Christus Chorus for the last two years, Concert Band for two years, Opera Workshop, and is the secretary for the Music Club.

Lindemann sometimes sings at church but she has also recently joined a band with a fellow Anne Frank actor Glen Geppert and some of his friends. She will be singing in the band. Want to see Lindemann in action around school? "Opera workshop performs on May 4th and it's going to be awesome!" she says. Stop by and see all the hard work of CSP's fellow music students.
